A VIRGINIA BARRISTER.

The Career of Attorney J. Thomas Newsome, Who Has Won Distinction and a High Position in the Esteem of the People and His Associates at the Bar—A Graduate of Howard University Law School.

Among the pleasing echoes of the recent gathering of the National Negro Business League, at Nashville, Tenn., is the renewed evidence of the wonderful progress so many of our people are making on individual lines. It is deeply gratifying to find that wherever the opportunity is open some race man is ready and equipped to grasp it. One conspicuous example of success forged by his own, comparatively unaided efforts, is that of Counsellor I. Thomas Newsome, a practicing attorney of Newport News, Va.

Mr. Newsome's early history is not singular. The same drawbacks of poverty and disheartening prejudice which have marked the careers of so many of us, repeated themselves in his life. But his parents instilled in him the seeds of a noble ambition and while their homely circumstances did not permit them to crystalize their precepts into a liberal education for their son, they did produce that mental unrest which declines to be satisfied with any minor seat at culture's table.

There is a record in Mr. Newsome's life of one white patron, Mr. R. L. Watson, who recognized the superior aptitude of the youth and his inflexible industry, who fed the fires of his hopes and made it possible for him to acquire a sound scholastic and professional education, the latter at our own thorough Howard University. Mr. Newsome became a member of the bar of the District of Columbia and shortly afterwards, of his native county and State.

His essential goodness and his admirable character, not less than his profound legal attainments are responsible for the success which has come to him, for to-day no lawyer in his vicinage stands higher with the courts and the people, than does Mr. Newsome.

It is not alone as an advocate that he excels but he has shown many times that he is an engaging public orator on not only every question affecting his race, but as well upon such cognate questions as apply especially to the whites of this country in their relations to us. He has never shown to better advantage than in his admirable, thoughtful and conservative address at the recent Nashville meeting of the Business League. The graces of his oratory, his very youth and that indefinable something, which we all unreservedly yield to merit and success won the instant sympathy of his audience and electrified the League.

Mr. Newsome has solved the problem not only for himself, but also for other young men that a man can succeed upon professional lines in the South, if in his right hand he carries "gentle peace" and lives a life of openness and rectitude.

Dr. C. S. Payne, dentist, has returned from his vacation. He visited many points in New York and New Jersey. He will be at home with his friends and acquaintances at 1328 New Hampshire avenue, hereafter.
